

I know that a number of FAMM members like to take part in the IAC British International Film Competition but until now that has meant problems paying the entry fee.

Now we have made it easy.

Visit www.theiac.org.uk/central/biaff2010/biaff-2010-contest.html and you will find all the information including links to the online entry forms.

Film makers can register their films this way and - if they choose - go on to pay by credit card or PayPal. Of course the cassette or DVD still has to be sent by mail !

The closing date is 31st January. The contest allows any subject and any length of movie. All entrants get written comments from the judging panels.

I would be grateful if you would pass this information around and maybe mention it on the FAMM website.

Make us send some of our prizes to Oz !

Best wishes for the holiday season
